Teacher Directions

Cut out all the cards and mix them up. Have students read the “A Dog’s Life” comic and then use the text to match each main idea card with the supporting detail cards.

Main Idea 1
When Molly was a puppy, she lived indoors and was treated like part of the family.

Main Idea 2
Molly was left at home alone all day, and her needs weren’t met.

Main Idea 3
Molly was miserable living outdoors, constantly chained.

Main Idea 4
The kids got Molly and her puppies the help that they needed and deserved.
Justin liked to play tug of war with her.

At night, Ashley would pick her up, hug and kiss her, and put her on her bed so she could snuggle with her under the covers.

Once, when she had been left home alone all day, Molly got bored and chewed on the legs of the sofa.

She didn't realize that her family considered the couch for humans only—those legs looked so tempting! Just like the sticks Justin would throw for her in the yard.

He would throw a tennis ball and laugh as it bounced all over and Molly happily chased and tried to catch it.

She was teething and needed something to chew on to loosen her baby teeth and soothe her aching gums.
Molly had forgotten how long she had been outside. All she remembered was being so hot in the summertime that her head felt like it was on fire.

She remembered the time when the other dogs started coming around. She didn’t understand why they were bothering her, and she wished they would go away.

She tried to get away from them, but she couldn’t—she had nowhere to run or hide.

After that, she remembered being hungry all the time. It seemed like no matter how much she ate, she was still hungry. The cold weather made it worse—she needed extra food to keep her body warm when it was cold outside.

The kids ran to Rachel’s house and told her mother what they had found.

When the Animal Control officer arrived, she took one look at the puppies and at Molly, whose food bowl was empty and whose water bowl was frozen and who had nothing but a piece of plywood for shelter, and knew immediately what she had to do.
She unhooked Molly from her chain ... and gently gathered up her puppies.

Supporting Detail

I'm taking her back to the animal shelter, where she'll be safe and warm.
