ENVIRONMENT ENHANCEMENT TO PROMOTE PSYCHOLOGICAL WELL-BEING.

(e) Exemptions. (1) The attending veterinarian may exempt an individual nonhuman primate from participation in the environment enhancement plan because of its health or condition, or in consideration of its well-being. The basis of the exemption must be recorded by the attending veterinarian for each exempted nonhuman primate. Unless the basis for the exemption is a permanent condition, the exemption must be reviewed at least every 30 days by the attending veterinarian.

--The facility could not produce documents supporting either an attending veterinarian directed permanent exemption from social housing or an at least every 30 day review of the exemption from social housing documented by the attending veterinarian for a Macaca fascicularis stock animal singly housed since approximately July 20, 2011. While the attending veterinarian may exempt an individual nonhuman primate from participation in the environmental enhancement plan (which includes social housing for social species such as this Macaca fascicularis), the attending veterinarian must record the basis of the exemption, if it is a permanent exemption. Otherwise, the attending veterinarian must review the exemption at least every 30 days.

To be corrected by 4/6/12.

Accompanied on the inspection and initial exit interview by the IACUC Chair and the Senior Program Manager.

A subsequent exit interview was conducted by telephone with the VP/General Manager on approximately 3/13/12.
