

UW: STOP THE MONKEY BUSINESS

Snatched from their homes.
Shoved into planes.
Sick. Suffering in labs.

During the last 30 years, the University of Washington has imported pig-tailed macaques from Indonesia, cramming them into disease-ridden U.S. facilities and selling their babies to laboratories around the country for use in cruel and wasteful experiments. UW also acquires long-tailed macaques imported from around the world.

U.S. experimenters' demand for these species is wiping them off the face of the Earth.

UW must get out of the global monkey trade and end its flawed experiments on monkeys.
