

DID YOU KNOW

you have the right to

refuse to dissect animals

in Connecticut?

It's true! Each year, countless animals (including frogs, cats, and birds) are cruelly killed and then cut up in classrooms across the country—even though humane methods exist. Studies have shown that students who use humane dissection methods perform just as well as—and often better than—students who cut up animals. You don't have to dissect! Explain to your teacher that you won't and that a law gives you the right to say NO to doing so in Connecticut. This is what it says:

Connecticut Public Act No. 13-273

Section 1. (a) A local or regional school district shall excuse any student from participating in, or observing, the dissection of any animal as part of classroom instruction, provided the parent or guardian of such student has requested, in writing, that such student be excused from such participation or observation. (b) Any student excused from participating in, or observing, the dissection of any animal as part of classroom instruction shall be required to complete an alternate assignment to be determined by the local or regional school district.

Animal dissection is unnecessary and cruel.
Exercise your rights and stand up for
animals by choosing not to dissect them.
For more information or to get
involved, visit CutOutDissection.com
or e-mail us at hello@peta2.com.

peta2

DID YOU KNOW

you have the right to

refuse to dissect animals

in Connecticut?

It's true! Each year, countless animals (including frogs, cats, and birds) are cruelly killed and then cut up in classrooms across the country—even though humane methods exist. Studies have shown that students who use humane dissection methods perform just as well as—and often better than—students who cut up animals. You don't have to dissect! Explain to your teacher that you won't and that a law gives you the right to say NO to doing so in Connecticut. This is what it says:

Connecticut Public Act No. 13-273

Section 1. (a) A local or regional school district shall excuse any student from participating in, or observing, the dissection of any animal as part of classroom instruction, provided the parent or guardian of such student has requested, in writing, that such student be excused from such participation or observation. (b) Any student excused from participating in, or observing, the dissection of any animal as part of classroom instruction shall be required to complete an alternate assignment to be determined by the local or regional school district.

Animal dissection is unnecessary and cruel.
Exercise your rights and stand up for
animals by choosing not to dissect them.
For more information or to get
involved, visit CutOutDissection.com
or e-mail us at hello@peta2.com.

peta2

