

Why Is OHSU Mutilating Pigs in OB/GYN Training?

The anatomy of pigs and other animals doesn't accurately mimic human anatomy—yet OHSU forces obstetrics and gynecology (OB/GYN) physician residents to practice invasive and deadly procedures on live animals. Pigs, physicians, and patients deserve better. It's time for OHSU to join the more than 100 accredited OB/GYN residency programs that use advanced human simulators or other animal-free training methods instead of maiming and killing animals:
