

THE IDITAROD RACED A PREGNANT DOG TO DEATH

During this year's Iditarod, a 4-year-old dog named Ventana, who was pregnant, was forced to run for hundreds of grueling miles until she collapsed on the trail, killing her and her puppies. Her death was preventable, yet even though it is against the rules to race pregnant dogs, no one cared enough to screen for it or stop it. How many more dogs must suffer and die before the Iditarod's cruelty ends?

This suffering and death are brought to you by GCI,
The Odom Corporation, Providence Alaska Medical Center,
Alaskan Brewing Company, Blood Bank of Alaska, and others.
